

From the Appalachian Mountain Club

ANDROSCOGGIN RIVER MAP AND GUIDE

Waterproof Tyvek • 24 x 36
$7.95 • ISBN 1-929173-11-3

The AMC celebrates the resurgence of the Androscoggin River as a recreational gem with this new full-color, double-sided waterproof map. This essential addition to any paddler's bag is packed with useful information about the river's 167 miles, from its source in Umbagog Lake in Northern New Hampshire to where it spills into Merrymeeting Bay in Maine.

In addition to showing access points, conservation land, dams, and water types, the map describes the river's varied natural and cultural resources. The guide also offers advice on paddling safety and low-impact river recreation.

The Andro has something for everyone—from families looking for flat water to experienced paddlers seeking moderate water. This map helps people paddle any section of the river and learn about the area.

Special Features

- Full-color map shows the entire Androscoggin river from Umbagog Lake to Merrymeeting Bay.
- Detailed information on public launch sites, plus descriptions and levels of difficulty of sections make planning easy.
- Interpretive insets and photographs of the cultural, natural, and economic history of the Androscoggin River add to our understanding and appreciation of this important watershed.
- Tips on paddling safety and low-impact river recreation help ensure a safe and fun paddling experience.

How to Order

AMC Books and Maps are distributed by The Globe Pequot Press, Inc., Guilford, CT.

For orders only, please call 800-243-0495 or fax 800-820-2329.

For questions about the Androscoggin River Map and Guide, please call Jim Tafuto at the AMC's Pinkham Notch Visitor Center at 603-466-2721 x118.

AMC Books and Maps are also available through Peregrine Outfitters.

Also Available from AMC Books:

AMC River Guide: Maine, 3rd edition

AMC River Guide: New Hampshire/Vermont, 3rd edition

- rivers and their tributaries listed by watershed
- easy-to-skim tables summarizing significant information about each segment of the river
- descriptive text on access, cumulative distances from the starting point, and the attributes of each river segment

Appalachian Mountain Club • 5 Joy Street • Boston, MA 02108
617-523-0655 • fax 617-523-0722

Sales of AMC books fund our mission of protecting the Northeast outdoors.